Stichting Responsible Young Drivers, the Netherlands

The social goal of the Responsible Young Drivers is to promote road safety in young drivers' mind, by organizing sensitizing actions (in schools, nightclubs, events, ...) all year long with young volunteers (17 – 29 yo). RYD has a network of volunteers in the Netherlands to organise prevention activities.

Responsible Young Drivers attempt to reach a large audience and we contribute to the development of a social model, based on responsibility in which young people may identify themselves.

Some of our activities :

- Road Safety Days : the volunteers organise a complete day of activities (Alcokart, Alcovision goggles, somersault-car, ...).
- School Module : the volunteers go to several schools in order to train and inform young people about responsible driving. For this, an interactive presentation is used which enables young people to better understand different themes of road safety.
- Participation in European projects like European Night Without Accident.
